

 HISTORIC SEATTLE
Educate Advocate Preserve

2018 Annual Report

THE MISSION

Saving meaningful places to foster lively communities

In early 2018, Historic Seattle began working on a new strategic plan. As we thought through the goals and strategies that will guide us through the next five years, it became clear that it was time to update our mission to reflect our beliefs and the work we do every day.

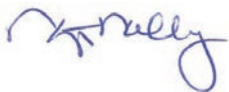

Carefully thinking through each word, we came to the statement you see above. Unlike the cause of historic preservation, it is simple. That is why we believe it is so apt.

Preservation as a field may be complicated, full of complex standards and criteria to comply with, and it can take years to finish a rehabilitation project or resolve an advocacy issue. But, at its core, preservation is as simple as it gets: people want to be in places that have history, soul, authenticity, patina...places that are meaningful.

As if we needed proof of that idea, our new mission statement was quickly put to the test. Our team was just getting used to the words when a development plan for the Showbox building took over Seattle's news cycle. As we mobilized immediately to do everything we could to protect this iconic home for music and culture, it became obvious how much power lies behind the work described in our mission's simple words.

All year, these words have been at the heart of our work. As we move forward with our strategic plan and as we act in response to unforeseen threats, one thing is certain. It is our mission to save meaningful places to foster lively communities, and we cannot do it alone.

With gratitude,

Kji Kelly | Executive Director

THE IMPACT

In 2018, your generosity allowed us to:

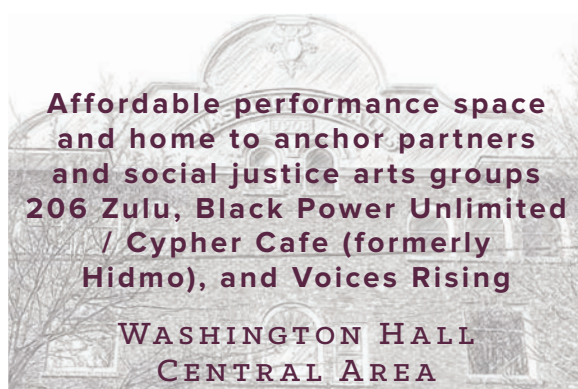

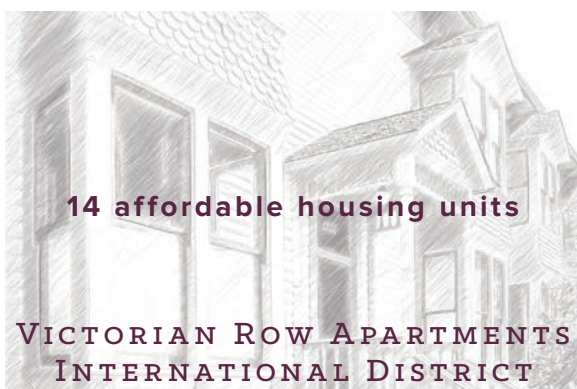

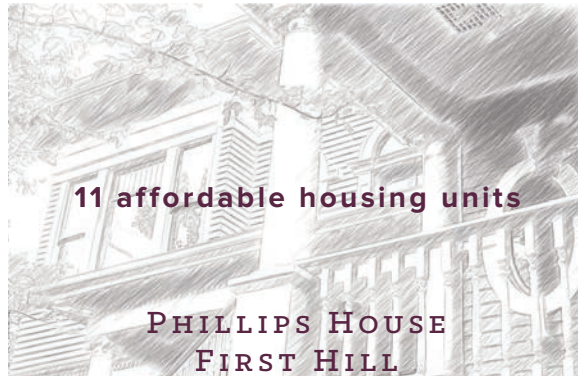

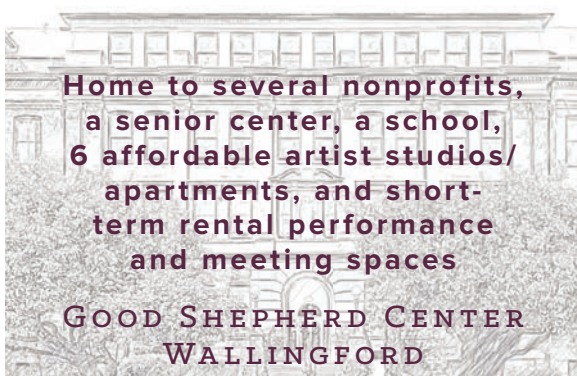

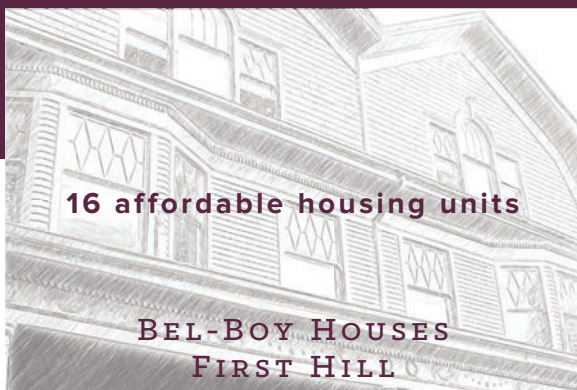

EDUCATE, by connecting 697 people to places that matter through 24 programs across 7 cities and 10 Seattle neighborhoods;

ADVOCATE for meaningful places over 670 times by empowering citizens, providing leadership to community groups, building grassroots coalitions, researching historic places, and pursuing landmark protections;

PRESERVE, by fostering lively communities through the stewardship of 8 properties that serve as homes to 26 nonprofits, a school, a museum, and 48 family units, hosting a range of activities through 255,000+ visits annually.

IN 2018, HISTORIC SEATTLE'S PROPERTIES FOSTERED LIVELY COMMUNITIES BY PROVIDING...

PROGRAMS

YOUR GENEROUS SUPPORT ALLOWS US TO OPEN THE DOOR TO MEANINGFUL PLACES THROUGH OUR PROGRAMMING.

In 2018, we continued to diversify our education programming, while bringing back some of your old favorites, such as the Good Shepherd Center garden tour and annual heirloom apple tasting. Our programming also offered new experiences like our grassroots preservation advocacy celebration and urban sketching workshop. From our headquarters on First Hill to Diablo Dam in the North Cascades, your support enabled us to bring together longtime members and new supporters, as we proudly featured a wide array of communities, as well as the people and stories that define them.

ADVOCACY

DID YOU KNOW THAT ONLY 0.5% OF BUILDINGS IN SEATTLE ARE LANDMARKED?

As historic buildings in our city continue to fall prey to the ongoing development trend, advocacy has emerged as a vital tool in the fight to save meaningful places.

From helping guide grassroots groups like Save the Roy Vue on Capitol Hill, to working with the community to Save the Garden House in Beacon Hill, to leading the fight to Save The Showbox, 2018 was the year of the landmark.

In our new strategic plan, we set a goal of strengthening the preservation toolkit. In 2018, we worked to push for stronger protections through landmarking. In the years to come, we will continue to develop new tools and resources to empower people to advocate for preservation; create opportunities for collaboration with community partners like Save Our Square (Pioneer Square); research, develop, and evaluate policy solutions to strengthen landmarks and historic district ordinances; and propose policy solutions to decision-makers.

PHILANTHROPY

“IF WE DON’T CARE ABOUT OUR PAST, WE CANNOT HOPE FOR THE FUTURE... I CARE DESPERATELY ABOUT SAVING OLD BUILDINGS.”
- JACQUELINE KENNEDY ONASSIS

In 2018, donors who care desperately came together to help fund our work, contributing more than $256,000 in support of our mission.

Through our spring advocacy campaign, Preservation Awards Benefit, fall appeal, corporate sponsorships, and more, each person who contributed in 2018 had a direct impact on our work. We are humbled by your generosity and were glad to be able to show our appreciation at our 3rd Annual Holiday Open House, through the new quarterly donors-only Preservation Conversation series, and at our annual luncheon for Cornerstone Legacy Society donors and Preservation Partners who give $1,000 or more annually.

With additional support from 4Culture, the City of Seattle's Office of Arts & Culture, and Future Unlimited Law.

In August 2018, this open letter appeared in the Seattle Times. Signed by members of the local, national, and global music community, it is an example of one of the many ways members of various communities have spoken out about the importance of this cultural space.

SAVE

For nearly 80 years, The Showbox has been home to some of Seattle's biggest cultural moments, from Duke Ellington to Buffalo Springfield, The Police, The Ramones, James Brown, Heart, Ellen DeGeneres, Eminem, Soundgarden, Coldplay, Robin Williams, Chris Stapleton, Prince, and beyond. Despite this venue's iconic status, it is under threat. The Onni Group, a BC-based developer, plans to tear down The Showbox, to build a 44-story luxury residential tower in its place. We cannot let this happen.

We have joined Historic Seattle in the fight to #SAVETHESHOWBOX because it means so much to our community and artists around the globe. For many of us, it played a critical role in our evolution as artists and helped us launch national careers. It is not just another venue or stop on the road. Like The Fillmore (San Francisco), First Avenue (Minneapolis), or the 9:30 Club (Washington, D.C.), The Showbox is one of the only truly unique, historic rooms of its kind left in the country. It must be saved for future generations of music fans and performers.

Please help us! Historic Seattle's #SAVETHESHOWBOX advocate coalition has submitted a landmark nomination for the building, and we will be there each step of the way to support this process.

We also ask you to call/write your City Councilmembers and the Mayor before Monday, August 13th. Tell them to vote to expand the Pike Place Market Historic District to save The Showbox. Tell them to work with Historic Seattle's advocate coalition to turn other solutions, like strengthening landmarks protections for cultural venues, into policies.

Together, we can save this iconic place, which continues to have an indelible impact on our city and artists from here and around the country.

Let's do this,
